SALTING A TENDERFOOT.

An illustration of the fact that Providence works in a mysterious way. A dozen years ago, when eastern tenderfoot capitalists were as thick as blackberries in the west, and every single man of them was ready to buy a silver mine before breakfast, four of us who had jumped an old claim in Nevada put up a job to catch a sucker. We went down about twelve feet with a shaft, struck "indications," and then raked and scraped for specimens to "salt" with. We sold our revolvers and everything else we could spare, and when we had the bait ready not one of us could have put up enough money to pay a week's board in advance.

We placed our figures at $20,000, and as I was the smoothest talker of the quartet I was selected as the spider to walk the fly into our parlor. I went up to Virginia City, and after a couple of days I got hold of a Boston man. He was not only green, but powerful anxious to be taken in. He was loaded down with money and overflowing with confidence. Our first conversation ran about as follows:

"Are you looking for an investment in mining property?"

"I am, sir. Have you anything in that line?"

"Yes, sir. I own a one-fourth interest in a claim which we believe to be very rich."

"One-fourth? Oh, I want the whole thing. I don't want no partners in this enterprise."

"But I think you can buy all of us out."

"That alters the case. I'll look at your claim and make you an offer."

I took him out there. I don't believe he knew the first thing about ore, but he descended the shaft, looked around a bit, and when we had hauled him up he said:

"Doesn't seem to be overly rich, but I'll chance it. I'll give you $10,000 cash for your right, title and interest."

We closed on that, transferred our rights, and almost before our necks to get out of the country before any climax came. The old chap was the butt of ridicule for several weeks, but people then began to laugh the other way. He got men and machinery to work, sunk three or four shafts, and inside of a year he took over $100,000 worth of ore out of that claim. Inside of three years he took out half a million, and then sold to a syndicate for double that sum. I met him after he had drawn $200,000 in Denver, and he held out his hand and said:

"Why, my dear man, I'm glad to see you. Have often wondered where you went to. It was a pity you poor fellows were obliged to sell out so cheap. Here, take a couple of hundred to get a clean shave and a new suit of clothes!"—New York Sun.

George Bancroft's Literary Work. My practice is to work slowly, but to accomplish something every day. I very seldom average over 800 words a day, and a few letters, and this is generally done before 9 o'clock in the morning. Ten o'clock every evening finds me in bed, and 6 o'clock each morning I am at my desk. No man whose profession or duties demand considerable mental work should allow himself less than seven hours' sleep, and if he occasionally takes eight or nine the overdose will have no serious effect. There are persons, I know, who will tell you that they can and have performed what seemed to them their best work by gas or lamp light. Why do they say so? Simply because they have never tasted of the sweets of the early morning hours. No one can understand the inspiration which the first hours of the morning bring to his literary work until he has been under its influence. What outdoor exercise do I recommend? Healthy exercise of all kinds. With me the saddle is a source of the most thorough delight, and to my daily indulgence of a long distance gallop I attribute much of the good health which now allows me to perform my work with a clear brain and a steady hand.—Indianapolis News.

"Police" a New Word in 1793. The word police has made many bold attempts to get a footing. I have seen it more than once strongly recommended in the papers, but as neither the word nor the thing itself are (is) much understood in London, I fancy it will require a considerable time to bring it into fashion; perhaps from an aversion to the French, from whom this word is borrowed; and something, under the name of police, being already established in Scotland, English prejudice will not soon be reconciled to it. Not long ago at a bazaar in Covent Garden, on my complaining of some imposition, I was told by a fair North Briton that it was the regular established police of the house. This, I own, is the only time I have heard it used in polite company; nor do I believe it has yet made any considerable progress, except in the newspapers, beyond the purloins of Covent Garden. Economy, patriotism, adequateness, privilege, and a few other such like words, have lately had their run, but now we hear no more of them. I should not wonder, however, if in a month's time they should all come about again in rotation, at the polite end of the town.—British Magazine, 1793.

A Mule Wearing Breeches. I came across an instructive note in a recent supplement to a catalogue of the Boston Athenaeum which interested me as showing that there are some places in the world where it is not necessary to get up societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals. The reference is to the Canary Islands, where C. Edwards saw in the town of Tacoronte a spectacle which appeared to his risibilities as well as to his sympathy. It was a mule "walking up the street at a demure pace in two pairs of sackcloth breeches."

The muleteer, observing the astonishment of the tourist, hastened to explain to him the reason for this devotion to an animal of the habiliments of a man. "It is because of the flies, señor, the cursed flies," and the smile of sympathy with which the remark was made left no doubt of its sincerity.—Boston Post.

A Soldier's Life Saved by a Dream.

A man of the name of Joe Williams had told a dream to his fellow soldiers, some of whom related it to me months previous to the occurrence which I relate. He dreamed that he crossed a river, marched over a mountain and camped near a church located in a wood, near which a terrible battle ensued, and in a charge just as he crossed a ravine he was shot in the heart. On the ever memorable 7th of December, 1861 (battle of Prairie Grove, northern Arkansas), as we moved a double quick to take our place in the line of battle, then already hotly engaged, we passed a church, a small frame building. I was riding in the flank of the command, opposite to Williams, as we came in view of the house. "That is the church I saw in my dream," said he. I made no reply, and never thought of the matter until evening.

We had broken the enemy's lines and were in full pursuit, when we came to a dry ravine in the wood, and Williams said: "Just on the other side of this ravine I was shot in my dream, and I'll stick my hat under my shirt." Suiting the action to the word he doubled up his hat as he ran along and crammed it into his bosom. Scarcely had he adjusted it when a minie ball knocked him out of line; jumping up quickly he pulled out his hat, waved it over his head shouting: "I'm all right." The ball raised a black spot about the size of a man's hand just over the heart and dropped into his shoe.—Hall's Journal of Health.

The Vanity of Men.

"A man cares more about his shape than a woman," said a correct maker, "and will resort to more stringent and uncomfortable measures to improve his figure. A stout woman will walk a mile for two or three days and stop eating candy for a whole week to reduce her flesh, but a man will submit to the most wearisome processes for the same purpose and keep up his effort for as many months as his trainer recommends. Place a glass at the left of any public stairway, and four men to one woman will turn to look in it, and from these premises may be drawn the double conclusion that men are more vain than women, and that were the stigma of femininity removed from corset-wearing and the custom adopted by fashion leaders men would fall in line very readily. There is no more reason why they shouldn't suffer in them than that women should be laced into them, simply because they look more trim and shapely. In 1833 and 1840 corsets were worn by men, and the fashion might be revived if a few leaders as courageous as the apostles of dress suit reform would introduce the practice."—New York Sun.

The Medieval Housewife.

The housewife of the middle ages cooked over an open fire on a stone hearth in the middle of the room, a hole in the roof letting the smoke escape. Over this fire the people shivered in cold weather, but at a later time some of the queens had braziers or small iron furnaces in their rooms. There were no carpets in those days, and rushes and sweet herbs were spread on the floor instead, especially when company was expected. There were tapestries on the walls of the finer houses. At dinner people sat on wooden benches and stools at a heavy table of boards set on trestles, and this was covered with cloth. The bill of fare changed with the centuries in those days, and not much from day to day; the food was barley and water bread, bacon, fish, capons, eggs and an abundance of home brewed ale, and the nobles sometimes had wine from the east.—Good Housekeeping.

Napoleon's Lost Cameos.

For many years the Bibliotheque Nationale of Paris has bewailed the loss of two dozen very fine ancient cameos carved by Napoleon I and never returned. The emperor had them mounted in a tiara, and when Louis XVIII came to the throne they were found among the crown jewels, and were sent along with them to England for safety when Napoleon escaped from Elba. Since then they have been hopelessly lost. The curator had failed to preserve a detailed description of the gems. M. Germain Baptiste, however, has been able to provide the substance of the missing document, and has published it in his "Histoire des Joyaux de la Couronne." Should the cameos ever come into the market, they may be recognized and bought back by the authorities. It is generally supposed that they are retained by the heirs of the Comte de Chambord.—Jeweler's Weekly.

A Skating Princess.

A very pretty story is related of the crown princess of Denmark. Prince Waldemar and Princess Marie are good skaters, and one afternoon when, after a long run across the ice, they sat down to rest, they noticed a little boy who was vainly trying to put his skates on. On seeing the royal couple he took off his hat and said: "Oh, dear Princess Marie, can you not help me to put my skates on?" The royal lady smiled, knelt down on the ice and firmly fastened the straps round the boy's ankles.—Boston Transcript.

Adam's Politeness.

A mother on Delaware avenue was on Sunday giving her child, a boy of 7 years, some Bible instruction. She was telling him the story of Adam's fall. Having narrated the tale of the apple and what mischief it did, the mother asked: "Now, don't you think Adam did very wrong to eat the apple?" The little fellow thought a moment and then answered: "Why, would it have been polite to refuse the apple when the lady offered it to him?"—Buffalo Courier.

Had Him There.

"Is it proper to say 'blown up' or 'blown down'?" Teacher—Either. If it is the result of an explosion, it is blown up; if the result of a cyclone, blown down. Boy—Ain't couldn't the result of an explosion be 'blown down'? Teacher—No. Boy—What's the matter with a sneeze?—Drake's Magazine.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TEHAMA COUNTY,

10,378 27-100 Acres
Towship 25 N. Range 7 W, Mt.
Diablo Meridian.

This township lies on the eastern slope of the Coast Range of mountains, and from 13 to 20 miles west from Red Bluff, the county seat of Tehama Co. The field notes of the U. S. Surveyor who laid out this township, says: "This township is well adapted for grazing, as it affords pasturage for large herds of cattle. It is well watered by the various tributaries of a river, which consists of a heavy growth of yellow and sugar pine, spruce, and cedar. There is a heavy undergrowth of chaparral, chemical and manzanita." The even sections are in most instances government land, so that the parts most valuable as adjacent to this range might easily be secured at government price, namely $2.00 per acre for single quarter sections.

In Section 9, coal was discovered recently by some herders, but nothing has been done to develop the mine, although samples which have been tested show the coal to be of excellent quality.

We are assured that a Railroad heading for the Coast, and running through the Coast Range timber belt will be built very near this ranch. Price for the whole, consisting of 10,378 27-100 acres will be $35,000.

The production of this great sensational drama by Ben Cotton and company Wednesday evening promises to draw a crowded house as the seats are selling fast, and those who enjoy sensation, roaring comedy and lovers of songs, dances and music should not fail to attend. The San Francisco Alta says: "The Cottons have a large as well as appreciative audience last evening at the Bijou, to witness the interesting play of 'Nobody's Claim.' The action of the piece was of the liveliest kind, and lots of it. The scene in the miner's cabin at the close of the third act was very exciting and won a hearty recall."

The Board recommended to the Governor the appointment of James Mayberry as Water Commissioner of Water District No. 1.

The opening of the new road west of Washoe Lake was ordered granted in accordance with the prayer of the petition, and W. E. Price appointed to appraise the damage.

The petition relative to a certain order of the District Attorney and Sheriff was received, filed and tabled, being considered outside of the lawful jurisdiction of the Board.

The candy lemonade booth on the sidewalk by Barnett's store was ordered removed by the Chief of Police, it being a nuisance and an unlawful obstruction.

Relief of $10 each was granted Mrs. Stackpole, E. D. Rodgers, Mrs. Anker, Mrs. Bingham, Mrs. Hurley, Mrs. McCann, and Mrs. Bracken.

Board adjourned until Wednesday, July 3d.

STARVING CATTLE.

Godeaux & Brandenstein Ship Twenty-two Car-loads of Them.

The Winnemucca Silver State, of Thursday, records this:

Yesterday Mr. Brandenstein & Co. shipped about five hundred head of young cattle to their California ranch near San Jose to feed. These cattle were raised on their Paradise valley ranch, and would have been fattened here for the San Francisco market, were it not for the drought. As feed is scarce they decided to ship them to California to prevent them from starving. Several other cattlemen are said to be arranging to ship poor cattle to California.

AROUND LAKE TAHOE.

What People Are Doing at "The Gem of the Sierras."

The following items are culled from the columns of the Sacramento Record-Union: J. B. Scott, a wealthy rancher of Cosumnes, who has a large mountain ranch between Truckee and Tahoe, is erecting a twenty-room hotel for summer tourists at Bear Valley.

Mr. Bailey, of the Grand Hotel at Tahoe City, has the usual number of tourists for this season of the year.

Idlewild is being put in readiness for the family of J. B. Wright, Superintendent of the Sacramento Division of the Southern Pacific Railroad. Mr. Wright was up a few days ago on a visit to the lake.

At McKinney's the San Francisco school-marm, hold the fort and are having a good time, with excellent success in fishing.

Mrs. Kirby, at Emerald Bay, has erected a number of very pretty cottages, which are also filled with teachers from San Francisco and Oakland.

The Delmore Hotel at Sugar Pine Point, which was successfully conducted last year by Mr. Kaiser, of Carson, is now this year by a Mr. Roberts of the same place. It was opened last week.

The Tahoe House is managed by the same parties as last year.

"Yakke" is pretty full and a number of people occupy tents in its vicinity.

Sacramento will be interested in "Rabbits Park" the new place opened this year by Mr. A. L. Frost, of Sacramento.

It is one of the most beautiful locations on the lake. A fine dock was made last winter at an expense of $800, at which the steamer lands, and a force is at work with teams clearing off the debris and putting the lots in shape for the inspection of tourists.

There are three or four cottages at the park at present, and another is being erected for George Mott, of H. S. Crocker & Co. It is reported that other Sacramento are talking of building.

The presence of the general Captain Tadm will be raised this year from the deck of the steamer which makes her daily trip. He is quietly living at Tahoe City, and his health no longer permits of active service, at least at the present time.

The water of the lake is the lowest known for many years owing to the light snowfall last winter.

The Carson Mint.

The new officers took charge of the Carson Mint yesterday morning, the Democrats retiring gracefully. Back Zabriskie, the Miller and Becker, will not succeed John Dennis for two weeks, as his bond has not yet been returned from Washington. Those who have gone in are: S. O. Wright, Superintendent; O. H. Colburn, Cashier; P. B. Ellis, Assayer; T. B. Holter, Chief Clerk; Allen C. Bragg, Cashier; Lawrence Elrod, Bookkeeper; J. Humphrey, Record Clerk; W. H. Grissler, Captain of the Watch, with Dan Sheehan, E. L. Buckingham and A. K. Lamb as Watchmen. Mr. Ellis retains Adams as his assistant, and has Thipps for Weigher and Miss Ollie Bray for Computing Clerk. The places in the Coiner's and Miller and Recorder's departments will not be filled until coinage is resumed, which will be some time in August.

The outgoing officers turned over $2,700,000 in gold coin and deposits, which is a good start for coinage operations. The building itself and the various offices were surrendered in a very dilapidated condition, and the first thing Superintendent Wright will attend to will be to put painters, kalsombers and carpenters to work, and clean up the place.

WHAT ON EARTH.

In the reason people will not, can not or do not see any difference in cheap medicines put up by cheap John houses or irresponsible parties of enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is getting universal satisfaction at "real prices" No medicine in the world is giving such unsolicited satisfaction for purifying the blood as HODGKINSON'S BLOOD PURIFIER AND BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work will cost you nothing.

OSBURN & SHOEMAKER, Druggists.

HOOD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SASSAPARILLA

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health.

At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's Peculiar Sarsaparilla. It strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of the vegetable remedies used give to Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar curative powers. No To Itself other medicine has such a record of wonderful cures. If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other instead. It is a Peculiar Medicine, and is worthy your confidence.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Irrigation Statistics.

The Enterprise says: It is to be hoped that our people in all parts of the State will furnish our Surveyor General all the information of which they are possessed in regard to water available for irrigation and other uses; also in regard to sites for storage reservoirs and lands to which water may be carried by canals and ditches. A knowledge in regard to natural springs will also be of use and interest; also what is known of artesian water, and whether the borings thus far made have shown any well-defined "artesian belts," such as are known to exist in California and other regions. As leading men of the nation and leading Senators and Congressmen are now taking an active interest in the proposed reclamation of waste lands throughout the arid zone, the people in Nevada should do all in their power to place before these men ample data in regard to the sources of natural water supply in this State. Now that the question is up and alive this is the time for us to bestir ourselves. If we do not show up in good understandable shape what we have and what we want, no neighboring State or Territory will do the work for us. The iron is now hot—let every man who is able to hit a tack come down with his hammer, be it heavy or light.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-wet-ly.

Sierra Fuel Supply.

The wood cut on the Sierras along the line of the Central Pacific railroad will be about 40,000 cords this year against 100,000 in 1871. The difference is not due to the supply being exhausted, but to the fact that all the timber contiguous to the line of the road has been cut for a breadth of several miles on each side of the track. The wood-burning locomotives on the Central Pacific consume 100 cords a month each. The wood costs about $3 72 per cord delivered alongside of the track.

Notice.

On and after Monday, June 24th, I will sell Soda and Sarsaparilla at 75 cents per case, two (2) dozen in case. Send in your orders.

250 Beautiful Lots For Sale!

A RARE CHANCE FOR AN INVESTMENT AND A HOME.

THE MOST LOVELY PORTION OF RENO.

Facing the Truckee—The Aristocratic Avenue—Riverside Driveway—Splendid Sewerage—Healthy Location and Safe From Fire.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is it is more safe from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before Buying Elsewhere Parties will do Well to Look at These Lots.

RENO

Reno's geographical position is excellent. It is on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, only 154 miles from Sacramento, and 244 miles from San Francisco. It is the terminus of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad running south, and of the Nevada and California Railroad running north. It has two Flouring Mills, Planing Mills, three Nurseries, a Soap Factory, Reduction Works, and other industries. A great Woolen Mill and a Sash, Door, Blind and Box Factory, are about to be established.

Reno has the Bank of Nevada with $300,000 capital, and the First National Bank with $200,000 capital. It has two fine papers in the DAILY and WEEKLY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL and the Daily and Weekly Gazette.

Reno is the natural home of the Alfalfa, and therefore the great cattle headquarters of the State. Here are fed the prime beef for the California market. Reno potatoes are the best in the world, and she also excels in Strawberries and the small fruits. Reno Wheat took the first prize at the great New Orleans Exposition.

The State Fair is always held at Reno.

Situated in the very heart of the celebrated Truckee Meadows the future of Reno is assured. Reno is the City of Homes. There is not a house to rent in Reno. New buildings are occupied as fast as erected. Reno has advantages which no other town can equal. The climate is mild and genial in Winter, and even and healthful in Summer. There are no excessively heated or severely cold terms, and while the days may be warm in Summer the nights are deliciously cool; in Winter sleigh-riding is the exception and not the rule.

Facilities for irrigating surpass any in the State and there is no failure of crops. Reno has Churches of all denominations, Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, Mt. St. Mary's Academy, the State University, and splendid Public Schools.

The Reno Water Co. furnishes ample pure, cold water for all purposes. The Reno Electric Light Co.'s electric light system, already well established, is being augmented. The Reno Gas Co. supplies gas for all purposes. The streets of Reno are lighted by electricity.
